PRELIMINARY REPORT OPINION OF VALUE OF
100,000 SHARES OF VOTING COMMON STOCK,
ON A NOT-FREELY MARKETABLE, CONTROLLING INTEREST BASIS OF

ABC POWDER COATING, INC.

AS OF AUGUST 31, 2007

Introduction

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Summary Description of the Appraisal Assignment

ABC Powder Coating, Inc. (“Client”) has retained Provident Valuation Professionals, Inc. (“Firm”), pursuant to an engagement letter of September 25, 2007 (“Agreement”) to provide a limited preliminary report of an opinion of the estimated fair market value of 100,000 shares of voting common stock, representing 100% (one hundred percent) of the issued and outstanding common stock (“Assignment”) of ABC Powder Coating, Inc. (“Subject Interest”), a federal and California C Corporation (“Company,” “Subject Company”), on a not-freely marketable, controlling interest basis (“Level of Value”), based on a going concern premise of value, (“Premise”) as of August 31, 2007 (“Valuation Date”) for the purpose of internal financial planning (“Purpose”).

The Subject Company conducts its operations from its office and production facilities at 1234 Any Street, City, California, 92999, which is in the county of Orange.

1.2 Objective of the Appraisal Report

We have intended to inform the reader in a simple and straightforward manner about our research, analysis and line of reasoning leading to our opinion of estimated value. We assume the reader is not necessarily familiar with business valuation matters, who, nonetheless, expects to be informed in a clear and concise way about the process we used in fulfillment of our Assignment to reach our opinion of estimated value described above.

1.2.2 Compliance with Professional Standards of Appraisal Organizations for Development and Reporting for Preliminary Reports

This preliminary report was prepared according to the professional standards in effect at the report date, October 17, 2007, of the following nationally-recognized appraisal organizations:

- Business Appraisal Standards of the Institute of Business Appraisers in effect as of January 15, 2001, and
- Professional Standards of the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts in effect as of May 31, 2002.

The appraiser is a member in good standing of the Institute of Business Appraisers and the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts (NACVA) and holds an AVA accreditation from NACVA. The significance of membership in professional associations includes, among other things, the requirement that the member conform to the association's professional standards.

1.2.2.1 The Appraisal Assignment Defined by Professional Standards

This appraisal assignment is a Preliminary Report is defined as a "brief oral or written report reflecting the appraiser's limited opinion," which is a "limited" opinion of value, in conformity with §6.1 of the Business Appraisal Standards of the Institute of Business Appraisers. This appraisal assignment is also in conformity with §2.2 of the Professional Standards of the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts, which shall not be described as a Conclusion of Value, an Estimate of Value or an Opinion of Value.

1.3 Summary of the Scope of Work Used to Develop the Limited Opinion of Estimated Value

Our limited opinion of estimated value in this preliminary report and the scope of this Assignment is subject to the Statement of Facts, Assumptions and Limiting Conditions set forth herein, and based upon, among other factors, the following limitations and restrictions:

- This report is preliminary and the conclusion subject to change following a proper appraisal and that said change could be material;¹
- A preliminary report is not a conclusion of value as defined in NACVA's Professional Standards, and such difference may be material.²

1.3.1 Subject of the Appraisal

ABC Powder Coating, Inc. ("Client") has retained Provident Valuation Professionals, Inc. ("Firm"), pursuant to an engagement letter of September 25, 2007 ("Agreement") to provide a limited preliminary report of an opinion of the estimated fair market value of 100,000 shares of voting common stock, representing 100% (one hundred percent) of the issued and outstanding common stock ("Assignment") of ABC Powder Coating, Inc. ("Subject Interest"), a federal and California C Corporation ("Company," "Subject Company"), on a not-freely marketable, controlling interest basis ("Level of Value"), based on a going concern premise of value, ("Premise") as of August 31, 2007 ("Valuation Date") for the purpose of internal financial planning ("Purpose").

1.3.2 Definition of Value, Premise of Value and Level of Value

1.3.2.1 Definition of Value

The definition of value applied to the Subject Interest is fair market value.

1.3.2.1.1 Fair Market Value as Defined by Rev. Rul. 59-60

The fair market value standard is defined in Revenue Ruling 59-60 as:

¹ Business Appraisal Standards, The Institute of Business Appraisers, Inc. §6.5, Plantation, FL

² Professional Standards, The National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts, Inc., §2.2, Salt Lake City, UT

... the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller when the former is not under any compulsion to buy and the latter is not under any compulsion to sell, both parties having reasonable knowledge of the relevant facts.³

In addition, Rev. Rul. 59-60 continues,

Court decisions frequently state in addition that the hypothetical buyer and seller are assumed to be able, as well as willing, to trade and to be well informed about the property and concerning the market for such property.⁴

Further, Rev. Rul. 59-60 adds,

A determination of fair market value, being a question of fact, will depend on the circumstances in each case. ...valuation is not an exact science. A sound valuation will be based upon all the relevant facts, but the elements of common sense, informed judgment and reasonableness must enter into the process of weighing those facts and determining their aggregate influence.⁵

1.3.2.1.2 Fair Market Value as Defined by Treasury Regulations

Treasury regulations have been issued to define fair market value for purposes of both estate tax planning (gifting) and estate valuation (after death) as follows:

The fair market value (of the property being valued) is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell and both having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts.⁶

1.3.2.1.3 How the Definition of Value is Being Applied to this Preliminary Report

The definition provided by the Treasury Regulations above has been used as the definition of value in our limited opinion of estimated value, although the definitions established by the Treasury Regulations and Rev. Rul. 59-60 are virtually identical.

Although Rev. Rul. 59-60 does not speak to other attributes of the hypothetical buyer and hypothetical seller explicitly, nonetheless, it is the role of the appraiser to estimate the value of the Subject Interest to simulate a transaction that would most likely culminate between a hypothetical buyer and a hypothetical seller. The following attributes are commonly accepted for hypothetical buyers and sellers:

³ Rev. Rul. 59-60, Internal Revenue Service, 1959-1 C.B. 237, Section 2.02, citing §§ 20.2031-1(b) of the Estate Tax Regulations and 25.2512.1 of the Gift Tax Regulations, which define fair market value.

⁴ Ibid.

⁵ Ibid., SEC. 2. BACKGROUND AND DEFINITIONS, paragraph .02.

⁶ Treasury Regulation 25.2512-1 and Treasury Regulation 20.2031-1(b)

...the willing buyer and the willing seller are hypothetical persons dealing at arms' length, rather than any particular buyer or seller. In other words, a price would not be considered representative of fair market value if influenced by special motivations not characteristic of a typical buyer or seller.⁷

Accordingly, to bring full effect to this simulation, we incorporated the following additional attributes of the hypothetical buyer and seller:

- The hypothetical buyer and seller are profit motivated, well informed and acting in their own best interests.
- The hypothetical buyer would exclude any related parties, subsidiaries, parent companies, shareholders, creditors, competitors or customers who can pay a price artificially higher or lower not contemplated by an independent, arms-length hypothetical financial investor.
- The hypothetical buyer is a financial buyer who will not be purchasing the Subject Interest for any perceived special synergies or strategic benefits.
- The Subject Interest will be sold for cash in U.S. dollars or with financial terms comparable thereto.⁸
- The Subject Interest will be held for sale on the market for a reasonable period of time.
- The Subject Company will continue to operate as a going concern and not be liquidated.
- The price represents the normal consideration for the property sold, unaffected by special or creative financing, or sales concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale.⁹
- The hypothetical seller is presumed to be knowledgeable about the relevant facts, including market influence on value, the investment implications of the Company's risk profile, its value drivers, control characteristics, and marketability implications on value.

1.3.2.2 Premise of Value

The determination of the valuation premise is key to the application of valuation Approaches and Methods used to appraise the equity interest in a company. The premise of value addresses the question, Under what set of hypothetical or actual circumstances is a transaction regarding the Subject Interest most applicable?¹⁰ Again, we employed the Glossary to provide our definition:

Premise of Value – An assumption regarding the most likely set of transactional circumstances that may be applicable to the subject valuation; e.g., going concern, liquidation.¹¹

The two most common premises are going concern and as if in liquidation. For purposes of our appraisal, we adopted the definitions from the International Glossary of Business Valuation Terms, the full version of which is included in herein.

Going Concern Value – the value of a business enterprise that is expected to continue to operate into the future. The intangible elements of Going Concern Value result from factors such as having a trained workforce, an operational plant, and the necessary licenses, systems, and procedures in place.

Liquidation Value – the net amount that can be realized if the business is terminated and the assets are sold piecemeal. Liquidation can be either “orderly” or “forced.”¹²

Most authoritative sources confer on the enterprise only three choices of valuation premises: going concern or liquidation, which is either forced or orderly. Management represents that the Subject Company will not be liquidated. Again, the Glossary provides the following definition of going concern:

Going Concern - An ongoing operating business enterprise¹³

Dr. Shannon Pratt, a recognized authority on generally accepted business valuation theory and methodology, defines value as a going concern, as follows:

Value as a Going Concern – Value in continued use, as a mass assemblage of income producing assets, as a going-concern business enterprise.¹⁴

A valuation course workbook published by the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts provides further corroboration:

¹⁰ Pratt, 28

¹¹ Ibid.

¹² International Glossary of Business Valuation Terms

¹³ Ibid.

¹⁴ Pratt, 33 (Emphasis Added)

Going concern value is the intangible value of an enterprise that has the necessary work force, systems, procedures, operating assets, and organizational structure in place. In other words, an entity has value simply from being a viable operating entity.

... Generally, “going concern value” means the total value of an entity as an ongoing operating entity.¹⁵

Adopting the presumption that the hypothetical seller is reasonably prudent and profit motivated when valuing a controlling interest, the professional standards set forth by the Institute of Business Appraisers requires the appraiser to consider and accept the higher of the two values, reflecting the realistic expectation of such a seller.¹⁶

1.3.2.2.1 Conclusion Regarding Premise of Value

Based on the limited scope of this preliminary report, we believe it is reasonable and appropriate to regard the Subject Company as a going concern as of the Valuation Date and for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, due to the limited scope of this preliminary report, we have presumed that the most appropriate premise of value for the Subject Interest is as if a going concern.

1.3.2.3 Level of Value

The level of value refers to the characteristics of ownership expressed on either a controlling interest basis, or a minority interest basis. Inasmuch as we valued 100% of the Company’s issued and outstanding voting common stock, the level of value of the Subject Interest was controlling interest. See the Glossary herein for definitions of these terms.

1.3.3 Date of Valuation

The valuation date (also known as “effective date” and “appraisal date”) of this appraisal is August 31, 2007 (“Valuation Date”) which was selected by the Client. Accordingly, this appraisal report is void and invalid for any other Valuation Date.

Our limited opinion of estimated value reflects facts and conditions existing or reasonably foreseeable at the Valuation Date. Subsequent events have not been considered. We have no responsibility to update this report for events and circumstances occurring after the Valuation Date, August 31, 2007.

1.3.4 Date of the Appraisal Report

The date of this appraisal report, corresponding to the date this report was signed by the appraiser and presented to the Client, is October 17, 2007 (“Report Date”).

1.4 Exclusive Nature, Purpose and Use of the Appraisal Report

We have prepared this preliminary report pursuant to our Agreement for the purpose of internal financial planning (“Purpose”). Our limited opinion of estimated value is valid exclusively for the Purpose set forth herein. Accordingly, this preliminary report is void and invalid for any other Purpose.

1.5 Statement of Facts, Assumptions, Extraordinary Assumptions, Hypothetical Conditions and Limiting Conditions Used in this Report

Some appraisal professionals prefer to format their report by placing the Statement of Facts, Assumptions and Limiting Conditions in the appendix. We prefer to present it in the body of the report to avoid the implication that its relevance may be mistakenly regarded as incidental to the development of our limited opinion of estimated value by its placement in the Appendix. Just the opposite is true. These factors are critical in understanding the basis of our thought processes, judgment and decision criteria in developing our opinion of estimated value, and the report within the context and conditions to which our opinion is subject.

1.5.1 Statement of Facts, Assumptions and Limiting Conditions Used in this Preliminary Report

The development of an limited opinion of estimated value in any business valuation report requires reliance upon various facts, assumptions and limiting conditions that usually have a significant impact on the limited opinion of estimated value. Accordingly, our limited opinion of estimated value is subject to the following facts, assumptions and limiting conditions, which are an integral part of this preliminary report, the inclusion of which have been approved in substantial meaning and form, if not verbatim, by the Client, pursuant to the terms of our Agreement and its subsequent amendments, addendums and reinstatement:

General Assumptions and Conditions

1. Provident Valuation Professionals, Inc. does not purport to be a guarantor of value, and assumes no responsibility for changes in market conditions, legal or regulatory matters, or for the owner to find a purchaser at the price indicated by our limited opinion of estimated value. An actual transaction for the sale of the Subject Interest may be consummated at a higher or lower price than our limited opinion of estimated value. Although valuation of a closely-held company is an imprecise and partially subjective undertaking, and reasonable people can differ in their opinions of estimated value, we have used generally accepted valuation theory, methodologies and procedures in arriving at our limited opinion of estimated value.
2. Unless otherwise stated in this preliminary report, we did not observe, and we have no knowledge of, the existence of hazardous materials regarding the subject assets, properties, or business interests. We are not qualified to detect or discover these materials, and, accordingly, we assume no responsibility for the possible existence of these materials. No duty arises for us to gain the expertise for their possible detection or disclosure.

3. This appraisal assignment cannot be relied upon to prevent, detect, disclose or correct any errors, omissions, irregularities or illegal acts, including, but not limited to, fraud, embezzlement, defalcations or departures from Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) by any individual, entity, organization or agency. This understanding has been confirmed by the Client pursuant to the terms of our Agreement and its subsequent amendments, addendums and reinstatement.
4. All facts and data presented in this report are true and correct to the best of our knowledge and belief. We have not knowingly withheld or omitted anything from our report affecting our opinion of estimated value, except as limited by the scope of this limited appraisal assignment, referred to in a previous section of this preliminary report.
5. We assume that the management of the Subject Company is competent and diligent. This engagement does not opine on the effectiveness of management, nor does our engagement extend to opining on the ability or effectiveness of marketing or other management or ownership functions upon which actual results may depend.
6. We are not licensed attorneys. This preliminary report is not a legal or tax opinion and should not be relied upon as such.
